

San Candido - Lienz (Austria) cycling path

(44 km - 500 m difference in altitude)

PROFILE

This cycling tour runs over a well-marked route suited to all bicycles. You'll start from S. Candido, approx. 500 meters higher than your destination in Lienz. The 44 km between the two towns is easy to ride, and we can recommend it to families with kids and even long-distance cycling beginners. When you're ready to head back San Candido, just load your bike in the special bike compartment on the train. This tour is especially interesting because it offers a taste of two different nations (don't forget to bring an international travel document!). Pedalling through deep woods and meadows, you'll cross from the Italian to the Austrian part of Val Pusteria before reaching the latter's regional capital.

DETAILS

Leave from Piazza del Magistrato in San Candido and head east crossing until the Conad-Tempele supermarket and keep pedalling on the left side until the hospital. Follow the red mark you ride along Drava Stream all the way to Lienz. There are rest areas all along the way, and the villages in between are all indicated in the train schedule below.
